About me

I am an experimental animator and filmmaker with a passion for creating fresh and bold visual storytelling. My wide range of software skills has given me a robust toolkit to create varied and memorable work screened in festivals worldwide. I have extensive experience working as part of a team to produce shorts and commercial work.

Software Skills

Targets

- To be part of a professional animation team and produce memorable, standout shorts.
- To better understand industry pipelines to refine my own work practice as I transition into professional work.
- To learn what makes an award winning short from professionals

Interests

I am a keen long distance runner and the drummer in a math rock band.

I love surrealist filmmaking, retro science fiction and both airplane movies.
